Publication Agreement

Agreement: We are pleased to have the privilege of publishing your Article in a forthcoming issue of Artificial Life. By your signature below, you hereby grant to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) all your right, title, and interest including copyright in and to the Article.

Rights Reserved by Author: You hereby retain and reserve for yourself a non-exclusive license: 1.) to distribute the Article for use in your own teaching and research activities, 2.) to publish the Article, or permit it to be published, as a part of any book you may write, or in any anthology of which you are an editor, in which the Article is included or which expands or elaborates on the Article, unless the anthology is drawn primarily from Artificial Life, 3.) self-archive the Article under the guidelines found at <http://www.mitpressjournals.org/page/policies/authorposting>. Some of the foregoing guidelines will not apply if the article was written by an MIT faculty member. If you are an MIT faculty author, please check this box _____. As a condition of reserving the preceding rights, you agree that MIT and Artificial Life will be given first publication credit, and proper copyright notice will be displayed on the work (both on the work as a whole and, where applicable, on the Article as well) whenever such publication occurs.

Rights of MIT Press: This agreement means that MIT Press will have, in all media, the following exclusive rights among others: 1.) to license abstracts, quotations, extracts, reprints, and/or translations of the work for publication; 2.) to license reprints of the Article to third persons for educational photocopying; 3.) to license others to create abstracts of the Article 4.) to license secondary publishers to reproduce the Article in print, microform, or any computer readable form including electronic on-line databases. This also includes licensing the Article for document delivery.

Warranties: You warrant that neither the Article in its entirety nor any substantial portion of the article has been published before in any form, that you have made no license or other transfer to anyone with respect to your copyright in it, that you are its sole author (s), and generally that you have the right to make the grants you make to us. Any exceptions are to be noted below. You also warrant that the Article does not libel anyone, invade anyone's privacy, infringe anyone's copyright, or otherwise violate any statutory or common law right of anyone. You agree to indemnify us against any claim or action alleging facts which, if true, constitute a breach of any of the foregoing warranties.

3rd Party Copyrighted Material: If your article contains third party copyrighted material (images, illustrations, etc.) that you do not own copyright to, please check this box _____ to confirm that you have obtained and submitted a copy of the required releases. You must include proper copyright notice as required by the original copyright holder. Unless you have provided a copyright notice or credit line that attributes the content to another copyright holder, the terms of this agreement will govern the content as well.

Multiple Authors: If there is more than one author of the Article, the word "you" includes all authors jointly and severally. The corresponding author may sign on behalf of all authors if he or she has the authority to act as their agent. Please check off the "for all authors" box if it is applicable.

Concerning U.S. (Federal) Government Employees: Some of the foregoing grants and warranties will not apply if the Article was written by U.S. Government employees acting within the scope of their employment. If you are a U.S. Government employee who prepared this work as part of your official duties and there is no copyright to transfer, please check this box _____. Works produced by individuals employed under government contracts are protected and restricted under U.S. copyright law. However, if you are a contractor of the U.S. Government, you may reserve the right to reproduce the Article for U.S. government purposes by checking this box _____.

Request to publish Open Access: Please check this box if you wish to publish your article open access _____. Please see MIT Press Journals Artificial Life website for required fee: <http://www.mitpressjournals.org/page/oa/artl>.

In Conclusion: This is the entire agreement between you and us, and it may be modified only in writing. It will bind and benefit our respective successors in interest, including assignees, and our licensees, provided that you may not assign this Agreement without our prior written consent. It will terminate if we do not publish your Article within two years of the date of your signature(s).

I (we) concur in this letter of agreement: [for all authors]

Artificial Life and MIT hereby acknowledge their consent to the terms of the foregoing agreement.

Publication Agreement
Supplementary Material for Artificial Life Articles

Supplementary Material Agreement: If you are submitting additional text, video, or other material (Supplementary Material) now or in the future, that you consider relevant to your article, the following three clauses will govern the posting of that material.

You hereby give to MIT Press a nonexclusive license to publish the Supplementary Material by hosting it on the Press's servers, accessible through a link from the Press's web page where your article is listed, and from any other MIT Press website or related website. You understand that the Supplementary Material has not been reviewed or approved by the editors of Artificial Life, is not considered part of your Article or of Artificial Life, and is not included in any licensing arrangements that the Press may have with respect to Artificial Life.

You are free to include your personal contact information and any copyright or other notice that you wish to include in the Supplementary Material, provided it is not in the nature of an advertisement or solicitation of employment or business. MIT Press reserves the right to take down the Supplementary Material at any time if in its sole judgment it believes that the Supplementary Material is not suitable for posting on its website.

You warrant that you are the sole author of the Supplementary Material, or if not, that you have a complete and unencumbered right to grant MIT Press the license stated above. You also warrant that the Supplementary Material does not libel anyone, invade anyone's copyright or otherwise violate any statutory or common law right of anyone. You agree to indemnify us against any claim or action alleging facts which, if true, constitute a breach of any of the foregoing warranties.

I concur in this Supplementary Materials Agreement: Initials here: _____

Artificial Life Open Access Program

MIT Press Journals and Artificial Life are pleased to offer you the option to have your upcoming article published as an open access (OA) document on our website at mitpressjournals.org/artl. We can also accommodate requests to publish already accepted Artificial Life articles as open access, freely accessible to readers worldwide. Procedure for publishing accepted Artificial Life articles open access:

- 1 Near the bottom of the publication agreement is a section entitled "Request to Publish Open Access." Check this open access box and return the agreement to the Artificial Life editorial office.
- 2 The fee to publish an article as open access is US$1250.00. This fee covers the costs associated with preparing an article for open publication.
- 3 Via e-mail, please send the name of the individual or organization responsible for payment of the open access fee to Hannah Gotwals <gotwals@mit.edu> at the Permissions Department of MIT Press Journals. We will send an invoice in the amount of US$1250.00 as directed.
- 4 Once the payment has been received, MIT Press Journals will adjust the website citation line of the article to indicate publication under a Creative Commons CC BY license. More information on the rights granted under this license are available from the Creative Commons website; see <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>
- 5 The article will appear on the MIT Press Journals website as open access, immediately accessible upon publication of the associated Artificial Life issue, or sooner if the article appears in the journal's early access section.

Authors of an OA article may upload the final published version of their article to Pub Med or Europe PMC under a CC BY license.
